FIELD TRIPS

Instructors occasionally choose to include field trips as part of a course. Academic field trips can be an important and enjoyable element of education. They are, by definition, university-sponsored events, so they must abide by certain principles. Yale College has established a set of guidelines governing field trips (http://yalecollege.yale.edu/faculty-staff/faculty/policies-reports/academic-field-trip-policies) that contain policies for both instructors and students. Instructors planning academic field trips should also contact Dean George Levesque (george.levesque@yale.edu) , 432-2920.
