DEADLINES AND UPDATES

The schedule of deadlines for the YCPS is usually sent out in early November, with the deadline for copy submission for the program overview and first-year tab falling in early February. After the initial copy submission, changes can be made to course and program information until a second deadline, typically around early March. Some changes are difficult to make late in the editing cycle, and all updates are subject to editorial approval. Program descriptions, once published, may not be changed until the following academic year.
