Dear parents and guardians of new Yale College students,

I am writing to share with you the following email that was recently sent to new Yale College students.

All the best from Yale,

Hannah Peck
Assistant Dean of Student Affairs

Dear First-Year and Transfer Students,

I am writing to remind you about the upcoming June deadlines. Please go to Important Dates and Deadlines for the

If you are having difficulty loading your picture for your identification card, please email id.center@yale.edu for ass.

If you plan to attend one of the pre-orientation programs i.e. Cultural Connections, Focus, FOOT, Harvest, or the Or International Students, please note the dates of arrival for the program on the Important Dates and Deadlines page. need to arrive the morning of August 17.

Pre-orientation participants may bring only the items they will need during their programs – not all of their item international students, arrangements can be made with the Office of International Students and Scholars to brin early.

Students should arrange with their families to meet them on Friday, August 23, for the opening day of the college and may move all of their belongings into their rooms. This ensures that all members of a particular suite will be able to on specific living arrangements. On Friday, August 23 there will also be many upper-level students to help you move belongings, and the head and dean of your college will be there to welcome you and your family. A list of events for Saturday may be viewed here.

The 2019–2020 edition of Yale College Programs of Study (YCPS) and the Undergraduate Regulations are now available and provides your first access to course listings for the coming academic year, as well as program descriptions, major requirements, academic regulations. Course information is updated regularly throughout the summer as new courses are added. The Regulations has important information on regulations, policies, and life on campus. It also includes information on reimbursement insurance, both of which we highly recommend.

Additionally, course offerings for the 2019-2020 academic year will be available on Yale Course Search by mid-June planning.

On Wednesday, June 26, you may view your residential college and room assignment, and the names and contact in suite mates and your first year counselor here.

Sincerely,

Hannah Rose Peck
Assistant Dean of Student Affairs
Yale College Dean’s Office