FIELDS OF STUDY

Fields include chronic conditions, self and family management, symptom science, maternal and child health, sleep and sleep disorders, global health, health equity and health disparities, end-of-life and palliative care, environmental influences on health, and community-based interventions.