RESOURCES TO ADDRESS DISCRIMINATION, HARASSMENT, AND SEXUAL MISCONDUCT

The university provides a range of options for addressing and resolving concerns related to discrimination, harassment, sexual misconduct, and related retaliation as defined by the Yale University Policy Against Discrimination, Harassment, and Sexual Misconduct. Individuals may report or document concerns, explore available resources, discuss resolution pathways, and access support. The university is committed to responding promptly and equitably to concerns. To support this commitment, the following offices have been specifically charged by the university to receive, address, and help resolve these matters: the Office of Institutional Equity and Accessibility and the school-based discrimination and harassment resource coordinators; the Title IX Office and the school-based deputy Title IX coordinators; and the University-Wide Committee on Sexual Misconduct.

In addition, the SHARE Center and Yale Police Department are available to provide resources and support to members of the Yale community.

They may also help facilitate informal resolution. Discrimination and harassment resource coordinators are often the most appropriate initial point of contact for individuals with concerns in these areas, as they have extensive knowledge of the resources specific to their respective school or college.

Yale College, the Graduate School of Arts and Sciences, and the professional schools have each designated one or more senior administrators or faculty members as a deputy Title IX coordinator.
